

Staph Infections:

CGS is taking extra steps to prevent these contagious skin diseases. The situation can be managed both at home and at school by washing hands regularly; practicing good skin care; covering cuts and abrasions with band aids and bandages; spending extra time cleaning sinks and bathrooms; laundering sheets/towels/underclothing with hot water and detergent and dry on the hottest setting; discouraging sharing of personal items such as towels and clothes; and wear gloves when dealing with any type of first aid or skin irritations. If skin irritations, rashes, sores, or wounds do not respond to regular first aid treatment, seek medical help! CGS will continue a persistent watch for this problem.
