

Dear Parents,

All parents are willing to help their child/children become better student(s). Sometimes we as parents are not sure what the best ways are. Consider some of the following suggestions:

1. Communication is one way. Parents must communicate with children and children must communicate with teachers. Teachers must communicate with parents and students. The more communication that is occurring, the more likely each party is to spot problems and intervene.
2. Monitor as closely as you must. Some children are independent while others require constant encouragement. Allow your student to develop responsibility, but do not allow them to fail.
3. Always try to focus on the positive. Success is important to all students. Not all students will be successful with everything that is attempted. If your child is improving, celebrate the success.

I will be in my room Monday, December 3, 2012, from 6:15 PM until 6:45 PM. (This is PTT/SAT meeting night.) If you have any concerns or suggestions as to how I can better serve you child more productively, please come to see me. I can also be reached by phone during the school day if that is more convenient. My goal is to help your child be successful.

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
Donna Johnson
